WHO ARE WE !

Hand To Hand International, proudly headquartered in Sialkot, Pakistan, has been a beacon of excellence in safety gloves and workwear since 2010. Nestled in Sialkot, a global epicenter of craftsmanship, we have built a legacy over decades, combining traditional expertise with cutting-edge innovation. Each glove and piece of workwear we produce is meticulously engineered to meet the demands of industries—whether it's mechanical, assembly, welding, firefighting, or precise assembly tasks. With over ten years of experience, we've partnered with trusted clients spanning continents, delivering not just a product, but a promise—a promise of durability, comfort, and unparalleled safety. Our advanced manufacturing processes, coupled with a relentless pursuit of innovation, ensure every glove is a shield—protecting hands, enabling productivity, and fostering trust across borders.

WHY US

At Hand To Hand International, we believe that safety is more than a product—it is a commitment. Since our establishment in 2010, we have been dedicated to manufacturing premium-quality safety gloves and safety workwear that combine protection, durability, comfort, and performance. With our manufacturing facilities based in Sialkot, a city internationally recognized for its craftsmanship and manufacturing excellence, we proudly serve customers across global markets with products that meet the highest industry standards.

What sets us apart is our ability to deliver superior quality at competitive prices. We carefully select premium materials, implement strict quality control procedures, and continuously improve our manufacturing processes to ensure every product exceeds customer expectations. From mechanic gloves and welding gloves to firefighting gloves, driver gloves, assembly gloves, and a complete range of safety workwear, our products are designed to provide maximum protection and comfort in demanding working environments.

Over the years, we have built long-lasting relationships with clients worldwide by maintaining consistency, reliability, and professional service. We understand that our customers need more than just a supplier—they need a dependable manufacturing partner who values quality, timely delivery, and customer satisfaction as much as they do.

When you choose Hand To Hand International, you choose a company with decades of manufacturing expertise, a passion for innovation, and an unwavering commitment to protecting workers around the world. We don't simply manufacture safety products—we create solutions that inspire confidence, enhance performance, and safeguard what matters most.

Premium Quality. Competitive Prices. Trusted Worldwide.
